

Ten Places to Celebrate St. Patty's Day in NYC

By Sara Ventiera
March 13, 2015

Pull out your brightest grass-colored clothes and grab your green food dye, St. Patrick's Day is coming next week. On Tuesday, March 17, New Yorkers' are about to let their inner Irish shine. From creative twist on classic dishes to green cocktails to parties, here are ten things to do on St. Patty's Day.

Winnie's Jazz Bar

Set inside the vintage-industrial-inspired Refinery Hotel, this Garment District bar is known for its ongoing jazz performances. On St. Patty's Day, the Green Isle will meet NOLA with Celtic Jazz, folk and blues from one of Irish Voice's Most Influential Women of 2010, Tara O'Grady. Actor Dominic Chianese, from the Sopranos and Boardwalk Empire, will be making a cameo. In addition to traditional Guinness, enjoy cocktails like the Dublin Mule, made with Jameson Black Barrel, Prickly Pear Liqueur and ginger beer. (212-729-0277)